Dear Parents and Carers,

Another busy week at SMSP! We've had children training for the swimming gala, others practising for Proms Praise, whole class sessions using the giant floor map and Year 6 visiting St Mary with St Alban.

The theme for collective worship has been Jesus' early miracles with the important messages of faith and compassion, not Ms Swain and Rev. Simon turning water into wine!

With warm wishes,
Ms Helen Swain
Headteacher

Second Hand Uniform Sale

Thank you to everyone who contributed to the sale either through donations or purchases. We raised £632; half of which will go to 'Welcare' and the rest on school resources.

Welcare is a charity working with families in South London and East Surrey.

New Books

This week we had a lovely delivery of new books to each classroom for children to enjoy in book corners. The books are high quality texts based on topics which are taught throughout the year and were funded by the money raised at the last Usborne book fair- thank you to everyone who made a purchase. We will be holding our next book fair on 6th and 7th February- more details to come!

SpecSavers Visit Year 6

Firstly, the two visitors came in to teach us about the eye, what they do at Specsavers, what they do during an eye test and whether you need glasses or not. After that, they told us that they were an optician and an optometrist and that both jobs have a significant role in a successful eye test but both are very different. Next, they taught us about how an eye test works and how to become an optician or optometrist. Opticians have a slightly different and easier path than optometrists from only two years compared to three! At the end, they handed out specialised equipment for eye tests which everyone found very interesting!

Prom Praise 4 Schools

In March our Y5 choir will be performing in Prom Praise 4 Schools at the Royal Albert Hall.

This week one of the musicians from the All Souls Orchestra, who will be accompanying us on the evening, came to visit us.

He taught us about the orchestra, the story of King David and some of the music we will be hearing on the night.

*'We learnt that God looks at the heart,
not at our appearance'*
- Rayan.

'We listened to a trumpet in action and found out that a trumpet can play 49 notes!'
- Matilda and Medha

'We acted out the story of how David became King.'

SPORTS:NEWS

Football vs. Collis

Last week the boys and girls football team played matches against Collis School. The girls played incredibly well and scored 4 goals between them. Although the result was a draw, they were really chuffed. The boys also played fantastically and, again, although they didn't win they had fun. Both matches were very exciting to watch and the children demonstrated great perseverance and sportsmanship!
